These selected paragraphs distill the contents and give you a quick look inside Merlin - A Poem: Look inside the book: Out of his grave, as he would say it for us- ...If there be now a king to save, he said. About Edwin Arlington Robinson, the Author: He described his childhood in Maine as stark and unhappy: his parents, having wanted a girl, did not name him until he was six months old, when they visited a holiday resort; other vacationers decided that he should have a name, and selected a man from Arlington, Massachusetts to draw a name out of a hat. ...6 The marriage was a great blow to Edwins pride, and during the wedding ceremony, February 12, 1890, the despondent poet stayed home and wrote a poem of protest, Cortège, the title of which refers to the train that took the newly married couple out of town to their new life in St.
